Refuses to See All Visitors Except by Special Appointment.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., June 23 .- Gov. Roosevelt kept himself seeluded to-day in his home at Cove Neck. He had previously announced that for a day or two he desired absolute rest, and would refuse to see callers.

A trusted lieutenant of the Republican candidate for Vice-President was stationed at the raffroad depot to day, and when any one spoke of going out to Cove Neck the visitor was advised not o go. as Gov. Roosevelt would positive refuse to be seen.

The main callers at the Rooseveit house during the forenoon were tele-graph messengers, who frequently made the trip to deliver telegrams of congratulation, which kept coming over the wires from all parts of the country. The candidate for Vice-President oc cupled considerable of his time reading these telegrams and dictating answers. All persons who want to see Col. Roosevelt during the next few days will have to make appointments in advance before they are admitted to his house.
